

Little Nook Glamping, St. Just, Cornwall

A few years ago I found that my world had been turned upside down and I had to relocate, reinvent and reorganize my entire world. This was either going to be a very daunting and scary experience, or an amazing opportunity. Ever the optimist, I went for the later.

I started looking around at opportunities available and the Glamping Industry caught my eye. With many companies to choose from, it was a little mind boggling but then I discovered the Safari Tents by Clear Sky and from the moment I met Mark and his team it was clear that not only did they provide a great reasonably priced product but they also offered an incredible amount of knowledge and expertise.

Since then the team at Clear Sky have been there for me every step of the way. Site visits, guidance with planning, product knowledge and legislation, they covered it all. There was always someone on the end of the phone and they never tired of my endless questions, the installation team were great and they were also happy to connect me with other clients who were happy to share their experience and knowledge. Glamping Design have also worked alongside to create a website and offer advise as to the best ways to promote and advertise my site.

So now here I am, ready to let the world know about the Safari Tents we have here at Little Nook. Nestled in along the Cot Valley that runs into the Atlantic Ocean between Sennen Cove and Cape Cornwall, each tent sleeps 4/5 and provide an incredible base from which guests can explore the incredible delights West Cornwall has to offer.

I am so pleased with the final result and looking forward to welcoming guests. Without the help and guidance I have received from Clear Sky my journey would have been a lot harder and so I would like to thank them for the time and effort they generously gave to insure I received the best customer service and advice possible.
